1. Come live with me and be my love, And we will all the pleasures prove That valleys, groves, hills, and fields, Woods, or steepy mountain yields. (Christopher Marlowe)	If all the world and love were young, And truth in every shepherd's tongue, These pretty pleasures might me move To live with thee and be thy love. (Sir Walter Raleigh)
Come live with me and be my love, And we will all the pleasures prove, Of golden sands and crystal brooks: With silken lines, and silver hooks. (John Donne)	Come, live with me and be my love, And we will all the pleasures prove of peace and plenty, bed and board, That chance employment may afford. I'll handle dainties on the docks And thou shalt read of summer frocks: At evening by the sour canals We'll hope to hear some madrigals. (Cecil Day Lewis)

Christmas, they say, is a time for giving, an opportunity to spread some festive joy by sending greetings cards to all your family and friends. Or, if you're an MP, the chance to remind the electorate of all the hard work you've been doing on their behalf.
