The Revolution of the “Most Reasonable”: Rawls’ Legacy in the 21st Century

by

ALESSANDRO FERRARA

Professor of Political Philosophy, University of Rome Tor Vergata

21st February 2021
04:30 pm IST (12.00 noon CET)

Alessandro Ferrara, one of the most prominent political philosophers, has contributed to conceptualising democracy, egalitarianism, exemplarity and pluralism as key constituents of critical theory. He argues for a non-foundationalist normative perspective in the “lineage of authenticity” rather than the “tradition of autonomy”. He is the author of several books spanning Reflective Authenticity: Rethinking the Project of Modernity (1998), Justice and Judgment: The Rise and the Prospect of the Judgment Model in Contemporary Political Philosophy (1999), The Force of the Example: Explorations in the Paradigm of Judgment (2008), The Democratic Horizon: Hyperpluralism and the Renewal of Political Liberalism (2014), and Rousseau and Critical Theory (2017).
